CLOSE OF CAMPAIGN IN WESTERLY

Republican Town, But There Will be Some Split Tickets—Oldest Inhabitant Remembers George Milner—Thompson and Scott Held for Fighting—C. J. Reuter Buys Land.

That there is difficulty in keeping the Rhode Island National Guard up to the required standard is shown in the record for the six months ending October 1, as published by the adjutant general. Six commissioned officers have resigned and 515 enlisted men have been discharged, an average of one commissioned officer and more than 85 enlisted men a month. Eleven members of the Fifth company, Westerly, have been honorably discharged and nine were discharged without honor. Among the resignations was that of Captain Robert C. Thacker of the Fifth company.

The department council of administration of the United Spanish War Veterans, Department of Rhode Island, has adopted a system of credits and demerits for its members. This plan having been in vogue for some time in many other states under the national department, a suitable trophy will be awarded the camp making the best showing in returns and in membership. The annual state encampment will be held early in December.

Both political parties have fired their final shots in the coming campaign, the democrats from a toy pistol.

and the republicans from a big eighteen inch gun in comparison. Each party will pour its full vote for presidential electors and state officers, but from these there will be some minor defection, for there are republicans in Westerly who will vote for Gerry for senator, just as they voted for him for representatives two years ago, but his fate will be the same. The democratic vote will be split on the vote for representatives and there will be a split on the republican vote for state senator.

The polls will open at nine o'clock in the morning and close at five in the afternoon. The liquor license question will be settled for two years more.

Another "oldest inhabitant" comes to the front and centre and corrects the other "oldest inhabitant" in the statement to the effect that George Milner, of Chicago, who said in New London that he was a former resident of Westerly and who had $29,000 to bet that Woodrow Wilson would be re-elected, had never in fact been a resident of Westerly, as printed in Friday's Bulletin.

The second oldest inhabitant says:

"The name of George Milner may not appear in any back number of the Westerly directory but I went to school with him and was one of his playmates. He lived in Main street in the house now known as the parsonage of the Pawcatuck Seventh Day Baptist church. He was a cousin of the late Edwin and John Milner, former residents of Westerly and who died in Moosup. His sister, Mrs. James Albert Sisson, now resident at 38 Summer street, Westerly, George left town over forty years ago and has visited his old home town several times since."

A delegation from Westerly attended the dedication of a tablet to Major Samuel Appleton, who achieved victory over the Indians on the island of the Great Swamp, South Kingston. The dedicatory exercises were held near the scene of the battle by members of the Rhode Island Historical society and guests. Major Appleton was the commander of the Massachusetts troops in the days of early settlement and led the attacking column which drove the Indians forever from the Great Swamp. The flat tablet erected in Major Appleton's honor was placed on a cement base, beside the monument which was erected in 1906 to commemorate the battle.

Approach to the tablet was made possible by Francis R. Appleton, who defrayed the expense of reconstructing about a mile of the road leading from the main road into the island through the swamp.

Addresses were made by Rowland G. Hazard, who presented the tablet to the society in 1906, Professor John H. Appleton, Rev. Robert B. Carter, former Governor Charles D. Kimball, former Governor Samuel H. Ripley, William P. Sheffield and Francis R. Appleton.

Nine poultry shows are to be held in Rhode Island during this month, December and January, in Westerly, Cranston, Pawtucket, North Providence, Wakefield, Bristol, Woonsocket and Wickford.

The Cyclone motor hose and chemical wagon responded to call for assistance from North Stonington, Friday evening. The fire was in the chimney of the Thomas S. Windham house and was extinguished with chemicals.

Charles F. Thomas of Westerly, and William Scott of Boston, both colored, and employed at Alton were in a row Saturday noon, and Thomas had his face severely cut. They were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Barber and held for hearing in the Third District court at Hope Valley, next Thursday. In default of bail they were jailed.

Rev. Adam C. McGilton, former pastor of Grace Methodist church, Westerly, now located in Bristol, conducted a rally and platform service in the Methodist church there, Sunday evening. Besides Rev. McGilton, there were other speakers and the subject was, God's Hand in the Affairs of the Nation. At the morning service Rev. McGilton preached on the topic, A Tragedy and a Conquest.

Mrs. Rowland Gibson Hazard of Peace Dale, has been re-elected president of the Rhode Island association opposed to Woman Suffrage. The other officers are: Mrs. L. C. Hopkins, Mrs. Howard O. Sturges, Mrs. S. O. Metcalf, vice president; Mrs. A. G. Harkness, secretary; Mrs. Ellen H. Howard, treasurer; Dr. Eulalie Root, executive secretary. During the past year there has been an increase in membership of over 700. A large contingent from Rhode Island will attend the national convention to be held in Washington, D. C., December 6th.

STONINGTON

Chimney Fire at J. F. Trumbull House Extinguished With Chemicals—Calvary Church Organist Going to Bermuda—October Mortality.

The Stonington borough fire department is composed of as zealous a body of volunteer firemen as there is in the state of Connecticut, and their ability and efficiency as fire fighters is unquestioned, but they seem to be content with fire apparatus that is long since enrolled in the antiquated class. It has served the borough well in the past, and it is urged that it is ample to protect the borough of the present time. That is the department equipment is keeping pace with the growth of the borough is the belief of prominent members of the department.

The apparatus comprises a horse-drawn steam fire engine, a hand-drawn hook and ladder truck and a hand-drawn hose wagon. It is urged that the territorial limits of the borough, the real jurisdiction of the fire department, can be readily covered by the department as at present constituted.

Breakwater Spray.

The fire department made a quick response to an alarm sent in Friday night for a chimney fire in the J. F. Trumbull house at the corner of Main and Pearl streets. The flame was extinguished with chemicals before serious damage resulted.

Rev. F. R. Sanford will officiate at the funeral of Dr. George Dallas Stanton today (Monday).

The weekly meetings of the Stonington branch of the American Red Cross society have been resumed.

Miss J. Emilie Zaigrand of Westerly, organist of Calvary Episcopal church, will soon leave for Bermuda, where she will spend the winter. She entertained the members of the choir Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Wilkinson.

Lester Thompson has returned to the borough from Charlestown, Prince Edward Island, where he spent several months.

Mrs. Thomas E. McGuire of Hartford is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. McCormick.

There were six deaths in Stonington during October.

Lester Thompson, who sailed on the Columbus ship Santa Maria as far as Charlestown, Prince Edward Island, has returned home. Chicago is the ship's destination.

NORWICH TOWN

Rev. Arthur Varley and Choir from Taftville Congregational Church at Sheltering Arms — L. E. Harris' Truck Plunges Over Embankment—Social at Scotland Road Hall.

The service at the Sheltering Arms Sunday afternoon was in charge of Rev. Arthur Varley of the Taftville Congregational church. Taking for his text, A bruised reed shall he not break, and the smoking flax shall he not quench, the preacher said: I do not know any verse in the Bible that shows better than this one the infinite patience and infinite tenderness of God, almost more wonderful than His infinite love. My own shortcomings, the church, its shortcomings, the state of all and underneath all, that spark of faith, this flickering dying light, God will not extinguish.

The temper of Christ was a reproduction of the infinite patience and tenderness of God and of what God wanted done for the world's redemption and salvation. At the time of his passing the most perfect character of man was never so low. Into this darkness came the light of the world. A great task had Christ to face; the hardness and almost hopelessness of the task was often impressed upon Him.

Christ saw in Matthew, the publican, the germ of a mighty faith, a mighty consecration. We ought to thank heaven for this that can make divine strength so perfect in weakness. God will not quench this spark of faith in us until it comes to eternal light.

There was a large representation from the Taftville church. The solos by Miss Hazel Banfield, Miss Jennie Kendra, Samuel Armistead, Miss Howie accompanying, and the anthem Thou Wilt Keep Him in Perfect Peace added much to the enjoyment and helpfulness of the service, which was fittingly closed by the singing of the hymn Jesus, Saviour, Pilot Me.

Truck Plunges Off Embankment. A crowd gathered and many automobiles stopped Saturday morning about 10 o'clock when L. E. Harris' motor truck went over the embankment south of the curve near Sacred Heart church. Besides Mr. Harris in the truck were Frank Smith and Dewey Woodworth, in charge of the granite which was started for Maplewood cemetery from R. H. Snow's marble yard on Huntington avenue. The truck struck the telegraph pole, splintering it to a height of six feet, then plunged down six feet or more. No one was badly injured, and help in raising the car was telephoned for. The crowd watched hours while the truck and its load was gotten back to the road. It was found that the steering gear was damaged, but the truck was driven to the city by its own power.

Valuable By-Products in Gas Manufacture.

The value of tar, ammonia, and benzol products recovered in the manufacture of artificial gas in municipal plants and at by-product coke ovens in 1915 was nearly $25,000,000.

Statistics recently compiled by C. E. Lecher, of the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, show that more than $1,340,000 gallons of tar was obtained in connection with the manufacture of oil and water gas, that nearly 48,000,000 gallons of tar was recovered at coal-gas plants, 128,400,000 gallons of tar was obtained in connection with the manufacture of by-product coke, and that the total quantity in 1915 was more than 237,400,000 gallons, valued at $6,260,000. The oil and water gas tar had an average value of 2.2 cents a gallon, the coal-gas tar a value of 2.03 cents a gallon and the by-product tar a value of 2.8 cents a gallon.

Approximately 50,760 tons of ammonium sulphate was obtained from the coal-gas plants and about 197,000 tons from by-product coke plants, a total of about 198,000 tons. The value of this ammonia was more than $11,175,000.

The coal-gas plants produced and sold 336,213 gallons of benzol, drip oil, and holder oil, valued at $28,281, an average value of 8.4 cents a gallon. Benzol products recovered in connection with the manufacture of by-product coke amounted to 16,600,857 gallons, valued at $7,337,371, an average of 44.2 cents a gallon. It is thus seen that coal-gas plants are negligible as a source of supply of benzol products.

Nearly 223,000 pounds of naphthalene, valued at $3,955, was obtained and sold from the coal-gas plants as compared with 466,835 pounds, valued at $46,959, from the by-product plants. More than 27,000 tons of retort carbon, valued at $183,170, an average of $6.73 a ton, was obtained from the oil and water gas plants and 1,696,266 tons of gas coke, valued at $7,222,744, or an average of $4.25 a ton, was obtained and sold from the coal-gas plants in 1915. Including by-product coke, the output of which in 1915 was 14,072,895 tons, valued at $48,558,325, the coke and retort carbon produced in the United States was 16,799,461 tons, valued at $55,054,239.

The value of the tar, ammonia, benzol products, naphthalene, and coke produced in the United States in 1915 was $80,316,975.
